The Lower House of the Legislature has passed a bill providing for a draft, which, we presume, will be substantially agent for the Louisville Democrat.

We may premise, however, that the quota of the 800,000 for three years has not yet been assigned, and we do not know how many regiments exactly will be required. Onr quota to be drafted for nine months' service will be the same, as there are to be that volunteers for nine months will not be ments are in order. Some will prefer enlisting in them, as their immediate friends regiments are not filled up with volunteers, and also the new regiments of infantry for three years' service, they will be filled by a draft

So we believe the matter stands; and now for the mode of drafting, as provided in this bill. The militia are to be divided into as many classes as there are men required. Say if one in every ten of the militia is required, then the division will be in classes of ten. This division is to be made by a Commissioner, appointed in each county. Then the day for the draft comes at the place appointed. Each class is drafted separately. If they can induce one of their number to go without drafting, they are released from the draft; or if they can provide a substitute outside, not subject to and no draft of that class will be required. If no one is provided after an hour and a place. The process is simple and Impar- tures. tial, so as to equalize the chances. Those who are already in the service, or who have drafted man is at liberty to find a substibute.

Citizens of the State who absent them selves will not avoid the draft.

There is one provision just between counties, considering them parties to the face it would seem that they should be exmatter, but very unjust to individuals. omrt; but it was urged, npon the other side, that so far from its relieving them, it would When a county has already furnished its full quota of all the requisitions hitherto made, including the present, it is not snbcounties have—if, when the draft comes, the ject to draft at all, and each county is in some counties; the Union men having, by their patriotic action, relieved them of the burden. We can't consider this just to the burden. We can't consider this just to to raise ten thousand troops by the State for individuals. If this feature is retained the Legislature ought to tax those thus exempt-have thus relieved them by volunteering. It will be seen that there is no way to escape this draft, but by promptly filling up the old regiments and the new ones of three to the order of the Governor, as commanderyears meu. Then the War Department will, no doubt, accept volunteers for the nine months' service. For obvious reasons the volunteers for the three years' service will have precedence.

Practically, in our judgment, the time will make little difference, as there is at be a regular State army. least no probability that this war will last over twelve months more. When our present requisition is filled, and gets into the field, it will make short work of the armies est and is resolved to expel maranders from of the rebels; and although a large military force may be required for some time, most of those now required will be discharged.

Recollect, the way to end this matter and prevent, too, the effusion of blood, is to hasten up an overwhelming number. Each additional volunteer is some security for the life and safety of the one who preceded him. Send enough and little resistance thing clearly was the question. If anywill be possible.

Come Home! Come Home!-Let every loyal citizen now absent from Louisville come home. Your duty is here where your Interests are, and it is no time to be pleas- gentleman at Danville, to his friend ln ure-seeking abroad. Come home, and be that city, which may be considered reliready to do your duty. If you do not go able: Into active service, your presence is needed here. We want the loyal men to stand in solid phalanx. Let the quasi traltors, the sneaks, whose property and persons have been protected by the Government, run away when there is a possibility of needaway when there is a possibility of need-ing their services. Let them be marked are said to be on the road leading to Mount through all time as traiters, and unworthy the glorious inheritance voucheafed them by our Revolutionary fathers. Their property remains, and may perhaps be made to bear some of the burden they shirk. The loyal men of Louisville should present an unbroken front.

MAN SHOT BY GEN. LOAN .- Friday Gen. Loan ordered a Lieutenant in Price's army to be shot at Laclede. He was charged with he was serenaded, and appeared on th several crimes, and among them the killing of the pilot of the White Cloud. We was once before condemned to be shot by a military commission in Missouri, but escaped. He confessed almost everything charged. After a full examination, he was sentenced by Gen. L'oan to be shot to death. After informing him of the verdict and sentence, and asking him if he had any word to leave his friends, or anything to say, he said he had not, and told them to shoot and be about fifteen minutes, when the Confeds d. (Correspondence of the Louisville Democral.) FRANKFORT-TURNPIKE ROADS-EXTENSION OF TIME AND DRAFTING-10,000 MEN TO BE CALLED OUT IN THE STATE SERVICE.

FRANKFORT, Aug. 21. Messrs. Editors: Whatever other changes may have taken place, I can assure you there is no change in Frankfort-not a dime, not a five cents. It is the same town-same houses, with one or two improvements, and the same hills. An old eltizen says it is questionable whether the hills or the town was built first, but my Sons of the noble sires from whom your Forget not Ashland, and his sacred dust, vote is for the hills, just upon presumptive evidence. There is something classic, however, in the air that envelops it, and the memories that cluster around it. It is not the gaudy, gilt-glngarbread tinsel of your bustling city, but something staid, somber, And prove you love the race, your country loveand yet agreeable. There is beauty in a brown stone front, a trim parterre, and Your country's fee is yours, no matter who blooming roses in gardens, but there is also a higher order of the picturesque in castles crewned with ivy, within whose framed.

We may premise, however, that the quota

I hear you answer at once: "Either place will do, provided you have an incomo to support it." Give us your hand, my boy. You speak the sentlments of my own heart, 300,000 of them raised. It is understood and he's a pity we are in such a minority in this world. Let us hope that our numbers will increase until all the world is willing needed at all at present, and not until our to live in a comfortable place on a comfortquota of three years' men is full. We be- able income. Now, Mr. Editor, I know you lieve that volunteers to fill up the old regi- are asking what all this has to do with the fight at John Rice's, and I will come to the point. The fact is, I was inspired by Frank-fort, and this exordium was like a scrap of and neighbors are there already. If these verse that will keep singing and singing in your ears until you speak it out and are dene with it. But now I will come to the point. You wan't to hear all about the ware-I mean the Legislature. Well, it is pretty well, I thank you. I popped in there this morning and saw the amendment to a railread turnpike company bill passed, and immediately thanked God that the country was saved. Jesting aside, the Houses have gone into general business, not confining themselves to the state of the nation. Before censure is passed upon them for this, the people should understand that a considerable time, say several days, had to be passed before the Committee on Military Affairs, the Judiciary, and other committees, could report anything for the Houses to act upon. Legislature would have been perfectly idle during this preliminary period, and you know the remark of Doctor Watts, upon a similar occasion, about the gentleman in vide a substitute outside, not subject to black providing occupation for those who draft, or not drafted, he will be accepted, had nothing to do. They are beginning, however, to act. There is a bill to re-enact the old State Guard law, with certain amendments, in order to render the act efhalf's consultation, then the draft takes ficient, and cull it of its objectionable fea-

The House this morning passed one very important measure requesting the General Government to allow an extension of time served nine months and have been regularly discharged, are not subject to draft. A quota will be full.

A discussion also arose upon the question of draftling, as to counties which had furnished their quota—say a county of a thou-sand had furuished five hundred, would it be right to draft in that county? Upon its ject to draft at all, and each county is credited upon the present requisition with what it has furnished over previous ones.

In this way the Secesh will escape a draft full, in time, and can comment for your selves. There appears to be a general agreement the counties as county guards; a hundred ed, in order to pay a bonus to those who have thus relieved them by volunteering.

The second of the second of the second of the counties, and, for the especial defense of the counties, and, as I understand, were not to be removed from it. The remaining five thousand, it was proposed by the bill, should be subject in-chief, to be moved to any quarter of the State that might be attacked, and to be paid while in actual service.

The minority disagreeing with these, proposed that the five thousand should be alisted for the war, and pald, of course, all the time, whether engaged in actual expeditions or in camps; in short, that it should

This is going to involve much discussion, and how it will be decided I cannot tell. If you can you are the wiser man. You can see from this that the State is in earn-our boundaries. A bill was reported by Mr. Burnham, chairman of the committee on Education, and passed the lower House, providing that all teachers of public schools, be required to take an oath of alleglance. The Senate did little of importance, being involved, a part of the time, in discussions about paying the expenses of a Senator thing else of importance was done, I don't know what it was, being engaged in the other House. DANVILLE, Aug. 20, 1862. Dear Sir: The news here this morning is, that there have been no troops at Somerset except the first batch of cavalry that passed through on Saturday. At London they attacked the Third Tennessee and drove them back, and Garrard came up and drove them Vernon, Garrard occupying the Somerset road. There are no rebels at Richmond. It is said Garrard cut them up considerably -how bad I don't know. Not much loss on our part,

By order of Major General BUTLER. R. S. Davis, Captain and A. A. A. G. Under the caption "Tribulation in Carondelet street-Excitement among the Cotton Factors," the Delta thus speaks of the gentlemen whom Gen. Butler's order drew out to condole with one another; It is refreshing to contemplate the sorrew. ful visages of this funeral crowd. Some of them had been taxed hundreds and some to the tune of thousands, but all alike bore the solemn aspects of unresisting muttons led silently to slaughter. They had made their money easy, to be sure, but parting with it was like pulling teeth. Some of these men are worth a million or so; a few, perhaps, as much as ten millions, in real estate, stocks, bonds and expectations; and others again are known as poor men, tolerably well to do, and worth only from three to hundred thousand dollars apiece. these latter to be taxed as high as a hun-dred dollars, out of the little savings which they had laid up, by means of two and a half per cent. for advancing on cotton crops, and two and a half per cent. commissions, and yet other per centage for brokerage and stealage, seemed rather hard -at least to them! No wonder that they growled. Jacob Barker's last growl at the latest hit of the Delta was as nothing depth and intensity to that which welled up om the little cavernous offices and rolled in the once busy streets and poverty flouted its rags under your aristocratic noses for the want of the privilege to work! Launch out, then, the needful, you favored ones of the higher walks of trade, and let the poor have work. This slight phlebotomizing of your plethoric purses will feed thousands of the deserving, and you be mone the worse. By Monday, the 11th inst., the time limited by the order, we hope to see you all come up to the terms prescribed; and for our part we shall be happy to give so flattering an account of you.

Again on the march and that march a retreat. The camp which, only yesterday, was pitched at the foot of the mountain, now memorable forever, was dissolved this afternoon into thin alr, and headquarters are here without a camp, but here only for an hour or three hours, it matters not which. The hurried order came to be ready to start at once and before two hours had passed tents and luggage, all of headquarters but its personnel, were going to the rear. We understand it is whispered that the whole Army of Virginia is in retreat questing the Legislature to repeal the act for the benefit of the Louisville and Portland Railroad Company, which was adopted.

a substitute therefor, requesting the Legis-lature to pass an act giving to the Council the right to construct street railroads, which substitute was rejected. which substitute was rejected.

A resolution from the Board of Aklermen the war are to be fought. This army is not raising a joint session this evening at nine o'clock, to elect a Superintendent of the Louisville Marine Hospital and Interpreter of the City Court, was adopted.

The wat are to be lought. This army is not running away, nor is General Pope outgeneraled yet by Stonewall Jackson. Threatened on the left flank by an army that counts its hundreds of thousands of miserable and dispirited troops, the army of Virginia retreats indeed; but it retreats Rappaliannock, but when once on the north bank of that river it no longer retreats—it begins to maneuver. The battles of this war are about to begin. New York, August 22. A most elegant dinner was given to Gen-eral Wilcox last evening at Atheneum Club, on Fifth Avenue, by our fellow-citizen, W. T. Blodgett, in which he was joined by a few personal friends of the General.

Among the distinguished guests were Major General Mitchel, Major Opdyke, Hon. Hiram Barney, Charles II. Marshall, David Dudley, General Asboth, Colonel Bayley Meyers, Colonel F. Howe, Captain Hodges, and others, all of whom made short, capital speeches, which, as the occasion was not of a public nature, we refrain from publishing.

The speech of General Mitchel was one of the most beautiful and patriotic of the astronomer Goneral.

Gen. Wilcox, in closing a very interestlng account of his prison experience, which he modestly requested would not be made public, expressed himself as laying no claims to be considered a martyr, and only-hoped for recognition of such services as he may be enabled to render his country in the field, to which he ardently wished he might be speedily assigned. Gen. Wilcox will return to the West in a few days, where proper head, must be avoided. it is expected important duties will be assigned him.

it was expected that the army cross the Rappahannock by ten o'clock, but the passage of the trains was so much delayed that it will not be attempted. corps of Banks is here, and McDowell is oming up. Both will wait the arrival of the crection of wooden buildings within the fields towards the town. They are al-

Sigel is not expected till noon, and whatever happens not a regiment leaves till the rear comes up. It is a wonderful regeat, for, in spite of delays, there is no panic among the trains, and though the troops morrow, but on the Rappahannock, before the week closes, comes the deadliest struggle of the war.

THE NEW IRONSIDES .- This mighty ongine of war was hanled out into the stream yesterday, and she now lies at anchor in morning, and although not provided a pass we were admitted on board in our reportorial capacity, through the courtesy of the officer of the day. Everything on and about the ship gave evidence of activity and preparation. An informal investigation was had yes-terday, at which Mr. Cook denied the authorship of the letter. Not a solitary charge was proven against the Provost Marshal. To-day Mr. Cook admitted the authorship, and General Tuttle gave him the opportunity to accept one of the two following alternatives—and allowed him two hours to decide—either to make a complete retraction of the charges in the Times, peuding the appearance of which ie was to remain under arrest, and theu to leave the district or to go to prison. Capt. Marsh set out immediately, with 45 men. At the ferry opposite the agency he encountered a large dy of warriors, who opened fire upon thein. J. J. Porter, of Monkato, a member of the atc Miunesota Legislature, arrived here last evening for arms. He was one of the committee sent to New Ulm to learn the truth of the reported murders. He arrived at New Ulm Tuesday morning, and found the people preparing to bury five persons murdered, others being constantly brought in most horribly mutilated. He saw four persons wounded in one room-cut with hatchets in the head and arms. One little girl was cut across the face, breast, and side. A little boy was dreadfully cut up; also a middleaged woman.

The light from the burning buildings and grain stacks was seen in all directions. Escaped citizens came into the fort during the night, giving accounts of horrors too terrible for imagination to conceive. Mothers came in rags and barefooted, whose husbands and children were slaughter-ed before their eyes. Children came in who witnessed the murder of their parents and burning them in their own houses.
